OTHER COUNTIES HOLD MEETINGS

FAVOR EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION AMONG COUNTIES OF THE STATE

WHAT ATCHISON CO. SAYS

Favors Expenditure of Money For Bridges and Culverts, Bringing to Grade Special Routes

Several counties adjoining Nodaway County have held county road meetings to discuss legislation incident to the 60 million good road bond issue.

Atchison county favors an equitable distribution among the various counties of the state in proportion to the amount of automobile licenses and the assessed valuation of each county. That county also urge the selection of all roads to be improved in each county by a committee of the legislature. They oppose a State Highway Board unless they can have one skilled in engineering and highway construction. They favor a provision for the right of eminent domain, to rest with whatever governing body that is put in charge of the location and construction of our state highways. A recommendation was also made that the money be apportioned to each county, be distributed through and by order of the county courts. That county also favors its expenditure for the construction of permanent bridges and culverts, the bringing to specified grades af specified routes and provisions for adequate drainage thereof.

Worth County Meeting

At a meeting held in Worth County petitions were drawn which will be circulated and sent to Governor Hyde:

To His Excellency Gov. Hyde and the Fifty-first General Assembly:

The undersigned citizens and taxpayers of Missouri are unalterably opposed to the plan of primary and secondary roads for spending the State road money on a few paved highways, and urge upon you the enactment of laws to guarantee an equitable distribution among all the counties of the state, using where possible the system of inter county seat highways already laid out by the State at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars, or some other system to be worked out by the legislature which will guarantee to rural Missouri the greatest possible mileage of good roads.

We further urge the enactment of legislation, or the submission of a Constitutional Amendment, if necessary, defining the words "hard surfaced roads" as used, in Amendment No. 6, recently adopted, so that same may not be interpreted to prevent the grading, draining and oiling of earth roads, preparatory to gravelling, macadamizing, paving or otherwise improving the same.

We further urge that Constitutional Amendment be submitted making the proceeds from the bonds and automobiles receipts (after deducting principal and interest charges) available for maintenance as well as construction, so that it will not be necessary to levy a property tax for the upkeep of the roads.

We also urge the enactment of legislation which will enable the State to finance its own bonds, thus saving for road construction millions of dollars in interest and commission on bond sales.

Meeting in Holt County

Be it resolved, that we, the citizens of Holt county in convention assembled, request that:

1st. We favor a fair and equitable distribution of the proceeds of the sixty million dollar bond issue among the various counties of the state of Missouri, in proportion, first, to the amount of automobile license issued in each county; second, the assessable wealth, population and road mileage.

2nd. We are unalterably opposed to the present state highway commission as it now exist.

3rd. We favor the distribution of the funds derived from the sale of the sixty million dollar in bonds, being disbursed through the order of the county court and a competent engineers of the state highway department.

4th. We recommend and request that the proportionate part of Holt county's funds derived from the sale of the sixty million bonds be used, first, for the culverts and bridges and bringing to grade such roads that have been or may hereafter be designated.

OREN J. TEMPLE PAROLED BY GOVERNOR HYDE

Present Mental and Physical Condition Said to Warrant Release From Prison.

Oren J. Temple, who was convicted in circuit court here a year ago on a charge of burglary and larceny, and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary, was yesterday paroled by Governor Hyde. The reason given for Temple's parole, was his present physical condition, which is said to be such to warrant his release from prison. The charge on which he was convicted, was burglary and larceny of the Hubert Garrett garage at Clearmont on April 1, 1920. The greater portion of the tires and casings, which were stolen were found near Temple's home at Alanthus. The inner tubes were found in a Maxwell car at the Temple garage, and the casings in an old abandoned house on the Eli Jennings farm.

While Temple was in jail here awaiting trial, he made an attempt to unlock his cell, by bending one part of the lock, but not enough to open it. He is 24 years old and his parents still live near Alanthus.

MARYVILLE WINS FROM PATTONSBURG

WAS CHAMPION OF GIRLS B. B. TOURNAMENT

LOCALS BEAT JAMISON

The Maryville High School Girls Basketball Team won the First annual Girls Basket Ball Tournament by defeating the Pattonsburg team at the College this afternoon by a score of 26 to 15. The game was fast from start to finish but the local team showed more team work and the effects of good coaching. The individual star was Mabel Raines. The score:

Maryville	F.G.	F.T.	F.
E. Raines	1	3	2
M. Raines	10	1	2
Fraser	0	0	0
Miller	0	0	2
Kennedy	0	0	2
Owens	0	0	2
Total	11	4	10

Pattonsburg	F.G.	F.T.	F.
Best	3	3	5
Shaver	2	1	0
Smith	0	0	2
Collin	0	0	1
Maupin	0	0	4
Total	5	4	13

In the first game of the semi-finale this morning Pattonsburg defeated Clearmont by the score of 34 to 4. The Pattonsburg forwards were both sure shots at the basket and the team work of the guards and centers made it possible for them to exercise their ability. In the second game Maryville won from Jamison by the score of 28 to 13. At the first of the game the score was in favor of one and then the other, but soon the Maryville team snapped out of it and at the end of the first half the score was 16 to 8 in their favor. In the second half they easily made basket after basket and the game ended with the score 28 to 13. For Maryville the Raines sisters and Ruth Miller were the individual stars.

The blizzard today kept many away from these games, as jitneys were unable to go over the drift to get to the college building. At one time this morning there were between six and eight cars stuck in the snow on the college drive. One team was hauled out to the college in a truck.

The various teams remained at the college building during the noon hour and a luncheon was prepared and served. There were about 100 people in attendance at these games.

The preliminaries of the Girls Basket Ball Tournament were played at the college yesterday afternoon. The result is as follows:

Clearmont 14, Barnard 4.
Jamison 16, Excelsior Springs 13.
Maryville 50, Westboro 5.

In the game between Maryville and Wesboro the home team had their opponents completely outclassed. The visitors were unable to overcome the team work of the Maryville girls and made only one field goal, the rest of their points coming via the charity route. Maryville's forwards were sure shots at the basket and missed very few of their shots. The regular line-up was used.

In the Clearmont-Barnard both teams were scrappy but neither displayed remarkable teamwork and consequently the game was rather slow.

The game between Jamison and Excelsior Springs was without doubt the fastest game of the first round. The teams were evenly matched and a fast game resulted. In the first half Jamison ran up a lead and the period ended with the score 11 to 5 in their favor. However Excelsior Springs came back in the second half and soon the game was nipp and tuck. The final score was 16 to 13 in favor of Jamison.

Mrs. Delle Cook of Okarche, Okla. arrived in Maryville last night for an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Ann Stauble, Mrs. Lou Heflin and other relatives. Mrs. Stauble went to Kansas City yesterday morning to meet Mrs. Cook and accompany her here.

39 KILLED IN TORNADO IN ARKANSAS

Scores Injured in Wake of Tornado Near Texarkana Ark. Yesterday

Little Rock, Ark., April 16.—Thirty-nine persons were killed and scores injured in a tornado which swept over southwestern Arkansas late yesterday. Property damage is enormous according to estimates received today.

The twister swept a district of twenty-five miles long and several miles wide, traveling almost the entire length of Hempstead county. It originated in Texarkana, where the heaviest loss occurred, eleven being killed and thirty injured. The border district of Texas suffered heavy casualties and damages. Prescott and Spurdel reported a loss of more than ten lives in each city.

MARYVILLE WINS TWO 1ST PLACES

THEIR SCORE WAS 21 POINTS—TRENTON WON THE MEET

SMITH WON 440 YD. DASH

Harold Roelofson Was First in Pole Vault—Was a Bad Day for A Track Meet.

The Maryville High school track team won two first places, two seconds, two thirds and one fourth place in the track meet held at Trenton yesterday, netting them a total of 21 points.

Trenton High School won the meet and Bosworth won the cup for second place.

According to Prof. Ziegler, who accompanied the team, it was one of the worst days imaginable for a track meet. Practically all of the meet was run off in a pouring rain, and of course some freak races and jumps were the result. The 100 yard dash was run in 10.2 which was unusually good, the mile in 5:06, but the mile relay was slower than the mile race for a single man. In the jumps and especially the pole vault, the pits were a "regular hog wallow." Many of the Maryville boys, who were entered in several events, had to pass up some of them, because they were totally exhausted from working in the previous events in the mud.

Smith won first place in the 440 dash; and Harold Roelofson placed first in the pole vault at a height of 8½ feet; Barry won second in the running broad jump and Evans 3rd in the hurdles, and Davenport 2nd in the 440. Ziegler was very well pleased with the showing the boys made at Trenton on the muddy field and if their work over there is any indication of the "Stuff" they have, they ought to make a mighty good showing at the meet here next month.

FEED THE BIRDS TO KEEP THEM ALIVE AND WARM.

Feed the birds! Look out of the windows and doors of your home and see if there are not some hungry birds seeking shelter. Since the blizzard last night, the robins and other birds are having a hard time finding food to keep them warm and from starving. So throw crumbs out in reach of the birds.

One lover of birds called the Democrat-Forum today and asked that the public be reminded of the situation. He stated there were possibly a hundred birds, mostly robins, on his porch seeking shelter. One little girl told us that a little bird outside of her window had already been frozen.

WORST SNOW STORM BROKE IN NIGHT

WIND BLEW ALL NIGHT—SNOW FELL CONTINUOUSLY

9 JITNEYS STUCK AT S.T.C.

Trains Late—Telephone Wires Tangled And Poles Down—8 Inches Snow Fell

The worst storm of the season broke last night and continued virtually all day in this part of the state. The wind blew continuously. The snow which began early in the night did not cease until noon today. Then it began again at 3 o'clock.

It was almost impossible for persons to get about on foot. The wind all but took pedestrians off their feet. None came out save those who had to be at business. These could be seen straggling in Indian file along in jitney tracks, which had not been covered up entirely. Others waded along the side walks. All of the eating places down town were crowded at noon today. No one had the courage to attempt it home.

Snow Drifts

At least 8 inches of snow had fallen at noon today. The wind has drifted the snow badly. According to the weather man, J. R. Brink, there have been several storms in April during the last 26 years. His record shows the following: In 1899 on April 2, 3, 4, and 5, total snow fall five inches. In 1901 April 5 an inch, from 1904 to 1910 there were snow storms during each year of this period in April, also in 1912, 1916, 1917, last year 1920 the heaviest snow fall of the year came April 3.

Telephone Troubles.

The telephone company is having trouble today. Only two circuits can be used to St. Joseph today and it is not possible to get farther than St. Joseph over the telephone. There is some telephone trouble to the north of Maryville, but most of it is to the south. Six cases of trouble were reported this morning on the local telephone lines. The trouble men from St. Joseph are out on the lines now working. Many of the poles are down and the wires tangled. This was caused by the heavy wind and the wet snow clinging to the wires.

One Jitney Smashed.

The jitneys stopped taking calls for a while this morning because of the storm. The 68 jitney had two cars put out of commission Friday night. One was damaged considerably by running into a concrete post in front of the Scott home on West Eleventh St. Another was out on the Normal drive for several hours. At one time there were nine cars out there unable to get back to town. Pearl Taylor reported that he had two cars stuck out at the college, one of which was blown into a ditch by the wind. It was finally pulled out and brought home. Bert Raines' car, Lou Fordyce's car remained out at the college virtually all day. Fordyce said that he met the early train in the morning and then gave up making calls. It was too bad for a while to even to attempt to drive on Main street. The passengers were marooned at the station for hours, though some of them did try to walk up town. Only second time in eight years jitneys have stopped, said Bud Knox.

The city made no attempt to clear off the walks until noon because of the continuous snowing and blowing. Shovels began to fly shortly after dinner, however, and the streets in the business section were more easily traveled in a few hours. The court house

HARDWARE DEALERS CAN'T SELL GUNS

Jefferson City, April 16.—Hardware dealers all over the state are receiving letters mailed out by their association Sec. warning them to comply with the "gun toting" law recently signed by Governor Hyde which provides a penalty for dealers selling firearms to persons who have not obtained permits from the circuit clerk and an indorsement of the purchaser's good character from the sheriff.

The hardware men declare generally that they favor the selection of the bill that requires the keeping of records of all sales of firearms but many of them declare the law will put a virtual stop to the sale of guns and ammunition and will cause them losses on stock already on their shelves, for they fear purchasers will not comply with all the "red tape" necessary to get a gun.

This phase of the question was discussed on the floor of the House and Senate when the bill was up for final passage and it was the concensus of opinion that what is desired is just that condition. The legislators declared that any person who is entitled to own a gun for hunting or target practice or for the home protection can do so with little trouble and the law will make it impossible for crooks to obtain them.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XXIII.—MAINE

Obscured in the haze of antiquity the old Icelandic sagas record a voyage in 1000 by Leif, son of Eric the Red, who sailed from Greenland to Labrador and down the coast of Maine. The next probable voyage to this coast was by John Cabot in 1497 and later by his son Sebastian. It was, however, Capt. John Smith, the leading spirit of the settlement at Jamestown, who sailed as far north as the Penobscot and first drew a rough chart of it.

In the grant by James I to the Plymouth Colony Maine was included in their territory. Opposition to the Plymouth Colony arose among the king's courtiers and Sir Ferdinando Gorges and Captain Mason succeeded in obtaining for themselves rights to the country between the Merrimac and Kennebec rivers. This they divided, Gorges taking the northern section. Meanwhile Gorges had sent over a small colony to the mouth of the Kennebec, but this settlement was soon abandoned. The first permanent settlement was made in 1625 at what is now York. Massachusetts objected to Gorges' claim and finally annexed all the territory up to Casco Bay and called this northern section the District of Maine. Maine was dissatisfied with the rule of the mother state and by 1820 succeeded in being admitted to the Union as the twenty-third state.

Maine was the first state to adopt prohibition. In the beginning Maine was strongly Democratic. It was largely for this reason that she objected to being ruled by Massachusetts which was Federalist. Since 1856, however, Maine has been decidedly Republican. It has six electoral votes for president.

The name Maine was so designated in the charter of 1639 in which Charles I granted this land to Gorges. It had already been commonly used by the sailors as distinguishing the mainland from the many islands along the shore. The nickname for the state is the Pine Tree State. Its area is 33,040 square miles, which is practically as large as the combined area of the other five New England States.

Last Monday, April 11, was Aunt Mary Miller's 86th birthday. As a little surprise on her the members of the Industrial Society of the Christian church and a few of her neighbors took their dinners and went in and spent the day with her. Grandma Miller was about the youngest one in the bunch and exceptionally spry, hale and hearty for a woman of her age. She is wearing a set of false teeth which she began using during the Civil War. We can't tell you more now but some day we want to tell you through the columns of the Tribune more of her interesting life.

Graham will have another election on Tuesday, April 19, as some of the men elected on Tuesday, April 5, will not qualify.

Nearly one-half million egs were purchased by our produce buyers last month, or to be exact, 486,200 or 38,850 dozen, or 1295 cases of eggs.

The Track and Field Meet sponsored by the American Legion is being met with very favorably by the schools of the surrounding country Entries are expected from every rural school in the township. Six high schools have signified their intention of entering. The Legion expects to see the largest crowd ever gathered in Clearmont, on April 30th.

L. L. Livengood and Z. R. Alexander attended a meeting of the High Prairie School district last Thursday night, in which the question of consolidation was discussed. An informal voteshow showed but two or three as opposed to the proposition.

Clean up day was generally observed, and some of our citizens who have not been guilty of work for years, if ever, turned out and worked like tropans. It did one good to see them, and the town was cleaned up as it has seldom been cleaned.

Next Week At the Movies

At The Empire.

The versatility of Elsie Ferguson, the charming star in leading Paramount pictures, splendidly displayed in "Lady Rose's Daughter," her latest photoplay which comes to the Empire Monday and Tuesday. Miss Ferguson plays three powerful parts in this picture, and her artistry is conspicuously evidenced in each characterization.

The story of Mrs. Humphry Ward's dramatic novel is divided into three epochs, those of 1860, 1890 and 1920. In the first epoch, Miss Ferguson is seen as Lady Maude, a woman of high social station in England. In the second, she is Lady Maude, while in the present day epoch, she has the role of Julie Le Breton, the illegitimate daughter of Lady Rose.

The three parts are entirely different in conception and treatment, but in this splendidly photoplay, Miss Ferguson portrays each with her usual artistry and dramatic effectiveness. As the daughter born out of wedlock, she endures much suffering, but after her love affair with a rascally army officer reaches its climax she finds happiness in the love of a worthy man.

The photoplay has been finely produced and the support headed by David Powell, Homes E. Herbert, Frank Losee, Ida Watterman and Warren Cook, is exceptionally clever.

On Wednesday and Thursday Harry Carey will be seen in, "Bullet Proof."

Carrey is supported by Kathleen O'Connor, who has attracted attention by her work in other Universal productions. J. Farrell McDonald, known as one of the best character actors on the screen, and other well-known players, including Beatrice Burnham, Charles LeMoyne, Robert McKim, Fred Gamble, W. H. Ryno and Bob McKenzie.

In "Bullet Proof" Carey has the role of Pierre, a young man studying for the priesthood in a rough section of Northwestern America, where a member of the clergy must be developed physically as well as mentally.

The murder of his father by McGuirk, a notorious gunman and outlaw, leads Pierre from a career in the church life to the life of a bandit pledged to avenge his parent's death.

One night Pierre comes upon a girl pinned beneath a fallen tree. While he is trying to save her they are both buried by a landslide. Each thinks the other dead until they meet unexpectedly several years later.

Pierre and McGuirk finally meet and the hero's pledge to his dying father is fulfilled. In a beatiful closing scene Pierre and the girl can see coming true the dreams of love born that night under the mountain side when they faced death together.

Wallace Reid in a new screen comedy, "The Dancin' Fool," will be the attraction for Friday and Saturday night. The photoplay is said to present the star in a role that is unusual and that ideally suits Mr. Reid's buoyant personality.

Wallie is Sylvester Tibble, lately arrived in New York from a country town to work for his Uncle Enoch in the jug business. The latter is a hidebound conservative, with the result that his profits have pretty well dwindled off into space. Sylvester, known as "Ves," shocks his uncle with the modern innovations he introduces and is in a continual row with him. In the meantime, "Ves" meets Junie Budd, dancer in a cabaret in which he happens to drift. The discovery that "Ves" is a crackerjack dancer results in his becoming her partner at "The Garden of Roses," a high-class cabaret. Thus he works by day at six dollars a week and by night for two hundred.

But gradually "Ves" focusses his attention on business, to the dismay of Junie, and goes on the road for his uncle with a big advertising scheme that is marvelously successful. He returns in time to rescue the jug business and to claim Junie for his own. Bebe Daniels plays the role of Junie, and Raymond Hatton, Tully Marshall, and Lillian Leighton are also in the cast. The picture was adapted from a popular magazine story by Henry Payson Dowst. Sam Wood directed, and it is a Paramount Arteraft picture.

At The Electric.

Here she is again! The good-little-bad girl, or more properly speaking, Bebe Daniels, the Realart star who scored such a success in "You Never Can Tell" and "Oh Lady Lady," has completed a third starring picture, "She Couldn't Help It," which will be offered to local play goers Monday and Tuesday.

Those who know the play and the story "In the Bishops's Carriage," from which this photoplay was adapted, feel that this is the best opportunity the star has yet had to display the great possibilities of the type she has made so essentially her own. Nance Olden is a little orphan girl, adopted by crooks and taught to be a clever pickpocket. She doesn't know the difference between right and wrong until a chance encounter "In the Bishop's Carriage" opens up to her a new world of romance and reformation. There are many comedy opportunities, especially when Nance, afraid of the police, resorts to calling the bishop "father," pretending that she is a school girl who has become mentally unbalanced through overstudy. The story is well put together and carries the beholder breathlessly through a series of very entertaining complications. Humor, pathos and drama are blended to form an ideal entetainment.

"Blackmail," a screen version of Lucia Chamberlain's Saturday evening Post story of the skillful workings of the crook world, which will be shown Wednesday and Thursday night with Viola Dana in the star role. The film, which is a Metro special production, deals with that strata of society always of fascinating interest to a large percentage of humanity and the special worry of the police.

Miss Dana appears in the role of Flossie Golden, the beautiful daughter of a famous crook who is urged by her dying father not to let the cops forget the name of Golden. With a band of confederates she entangles a wealthy but insipid young man with the intention of blackmailing him into marriage.

But the young man's hard-headed, socially ambitious mother finds a way to block any such mis-alliance on his part and through the efforts of a skilful young lawyer saves him. But the lawyer falls a victim to the charms of the lovely crook and the working out of the unusual plot furnishes many stage thrills.

Miss Dana made a winsome adventuress and her depicting of the chic daughter of the polite underworld added another to her already long list of successes. Wyndham Standing, who won his fame as a leading man in many roles on both sides of the water, as a lawyer was a lover to win the heart of even a coldly calculating girl of the crook colony.

On Friday night the 7th eposide of William Duncan in "Fighting Fate" will be shown. In addition to the serial, there will be four reels of comedy.

A different picture is "Poor Dear Margaret Kirby," the Selznic feature starring Elaine Hammerstein, which is booked for Saturday. The eternal triangle does crop up, but it is merely incidental, and is used only to serve as an additional obstacle in the heroine's thorny path to happiness.

In adapting this picture from the popular novel of the same title by Kathleen Norris, Lewis Allen Browne, who is given credit for the picturization of the story, has skillfully caught the sardonic humor and dramatic intensity of every situation.

"Poor Dear Margaret Kirby" is written around a young society matron who suddenly finds herself destitute with an invalid husband on her hands. Her erstwhile friends desert her with the acceleration of rats deserting a sinking ship. In spite of the formidable obstacles which arise, however, Margaret manages to keep her head above water, and in the end her enemies are vanquished, the villain scorned, and the love of her husband regained, with the future lying sunny and prosperous before them.

It is a splendid story, the acting is excellent, and the supporting cast chosen with exceptional care.

At the request of Mrs. G. A. Bradford of Columbia, Mo., state chairman of the grave marker committee, the local chapter has been hunting graves of soldiers of the War of 1812 in this vicinity. Thus far, three graves James C. Smith at Cain cemetery, E. Slaughter and a Mr. Nicholas at the White Oak cemetery, were found. Within the next six months the official bronze marker for all graves of the soldiers of 1812, will be erected over these three graves and any others found in this vicinity. During the business session, it was decided to publish a year book next year, and committees will be appointed later. Miss Lucile Wright, historian of the chapter, submitted the scrap book to the chapter, which she compiled. The book itself was presented to the chapter by the state regent, Mrs. L. M. Ottofy. The book contains a picture of the soldier, Benjamin Wright, for whom the chapter was named, and also the picture of the one real living daughter in the organization. Historical sketches of the ancestors of the members are given in the book and newspaper clippings and data of the chapter since its organization. A social hour followed the business meeting and program, with Mrs. W. J. Montgomery, Mrs. Charles Bell and Mrs. Jesse Douglas as hostesses. The table was centered with a birthday cake banked with sweetpeas and ferns. The outgoing regent, Mrs. Orear, cut the cake and refreshments were served. SOME CHILDREN REPORT GOOD LUCK WITH SETTINGS OF EGGS

Suggestions on Poultry Raising are Being Sent Out by University of Missouri.

Some of the children who are members of the boys' and girls' poultry club of Nodaway county are having fine luck with the settings of eggs, which were given to them by the poultry association. R. A. Kinnaird, agricultural agent, was over near Clearmont last week and talked with some of the children. There are 250 members of this club.

Suggestions on poultry raising are beging sent out by the extension service of the University of Missouri. The following on leg weakness in chicks may interest some of the Nodaway poultry club members:

Leg Weakness in Chicks.—When early hatched chicks that have been making a rapid growth suddenly lose the use of their legs without losing their appetites or showing any other signs of disease, the trouble is due to leg weakness. Leg weakness is particularly troublesome with brooder chicks although it may attack chicks brooded with hens where they are closely confined. The causes of leg weakness have been a matter of much speculation among poultry keepers for a good many years and it is only within the last few months that a really satisfactory explanation of the cause of this trouble has been advanced. Poultrymen have advanced the theory that leg weakness came from feeding a ration too rich in fattening material which caused the bodies of the chicks to develop faster than their muscles. Others have suggested that lack of exercise was the primary cause. Still another theory has been that too high a temperature and dirty quarters were chiefly responsible. Although the cause of the trouble was not known, the remedy has been the common knowledge of poultrymen for a long while and consists simply in getting the chicks out on the ground. Recent experiments at the University of Wisconsin have indicated that the primary cause of leg weakness is digestive disturbance brought on primarily by the poor elimination of waste from the bodies of the chicks.

Reports from this station indicate that the principal cause of leg weakness appears to be a lack of inert material in the ration which will cause the quick cleansing of the digestive tract through mechanical stimulation. Feeding of oil and other purgatives did not prevent nor cure the trouble but feeding a ration that was high in indigestible inert material was effective in preventing the development of the trouble and also valuable in relieving the difficulty after it had developed. The investigators found that including such indigestible material as paper in the ration for the growing chicks would prevent leg weakness. They also showed that fresh earth mixed with the feed or placed in the houses where the chicks could have access to it was eaten in relatively large quantities, and where fresh earth was available leg weakness did not develop. These researches add nothing to the practical knowledge of the best remedy for leg weakness but they do show why it is important that the chicks have access to fresh earth if this difficulty is to be prevented. Whenever the weather is favorable baby chicks should be allowed to get out on the ground and to have as much free range as is consistent with good brooding practice.

If the weather will not permit of the chicks being outside, then the poultry keeper ought to see that fresh earth is brought into the house and made available for the chicks every day. A practical way of supplying fresh soil in the house is to dig up large pieces of heavy bluegrass sod and place these in the brooder house with the root side up for the first day. After the chicks have eaten what soil they want and have picked out the roots, the sod can be turned over and give the chicks a chance to pick off the green sod so that they will have the double benefit of securing green food and inert soil material from the same piece of sod. Where leg weakness has already developed the treatment should consist in cutting down to a certain extent the amount of grain and mash which the birds are being fed and getting them out onth the fresh earth where they will take more exercise and at the same time will be able to eat the inert material which is needed.

THREAD-RUBBER INSULATION

Willard STORAGE BATTERY

Which Battery?

The Willard Threaded Rubber Battery not only gives the right service to begin with, but keeps on giving it, and actually outlasts the battery plates.

The plates are insulated—not merely separated. And the Threaded Rubber Insulation neither warps, cracks, nor punctures, because unlike wood separators, it is not affected by battery acid.

Drive around. Ask questions. We give authorized Willard Service.

Points the Way to Comfort and Health. Other Women Please Read

Moundsville, W. Va.—"I had taken doctor's medicine for nearly two years because my periods were irregular, came every two weeks, and I would suffer with bearing-down pains. A lady told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and how much good it had done her daughter, so I took it and now I am regular every month and have no pain at all. I recommend your medicine to everyone and you may publish my testimonial, hoping that the Vegetable Compound does some other girl the good it has done me."—Mrs. GEORGE TEGARDEN, 915 Third Street, Moundsville, W. Va.

How many young girls suffer as Mrs. Tegarden did and do not know where to turn for advice or help. They often are obliged to earn their living by toiling day in and day out no matter how hard the pain they have to bear. Every girl who suffers in this way should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and if she does not get prompt relief write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, about her health. Such letters are held in strict confidence.

HOLDEN PRAISES NODAWAY COUNTY

SAYS IT IS ONE OF FIRST IN VITALIZED AGRICULTURE IN U. S.

BEEN TRIED FOR 4 YEARS

Has Been Working On Problem For Years—On Way Home From Utah And Idaho

"Nodaway County is one of the leading counties in the United States in vitalized agriculture," said Prof. P. G. Holden of the International Harvester Company, who is in Maryville to confer with Bert Cooper, county superintendent of schools and William Burr, supervisor of vitalized agriculture schools. This method of teaching has been tried out in this county for four years Professor Holden said and the result in every community would be very different, indeed, if the old way of teaching school had been used.

Professor Holden began working on vitalized teaching in rural schools when he was a young teacher in a Michigan country district. He first taught his pupils about the testing of seed corn. They liked this so well that he gradually taught other things, bringing in the reading, writing and arithmetic with it. When he became county superintendent he taught some of his teachers to do this.

He kept working on the problem until the last phase, the rotation was worked out in the Nodaway county schools. Uel Lampkin, formerly superintendent of schools, heard Professor Holden talk at a Farmers Week at Columbia one year and was much impressed with what he said. He asked him to start the work in Missouri and agreed to pick out fifteen county superintendents who would try the vitalized agriculture out in their own counties with small groups of teachers.

Bert Cooper was not one of the original number selected. He just butted in. He was much interested in what Professor Holden said at the general meeting that instead of attending the meeting he was supposed to attend walked around to see what these men were doing. He was peeping through the window when the superintendent of rural education for Missouri came out. Asked if he was really so interested and upon learning that he was appointed his in the place of one of the number, who had been called home, Cooper continued this interest. Last fall while 76 teachers were registered for the vitalized agriculture conference 96 came and took the work. Twenty of them would not take "No" for an answer.

Professor Holden is on his way East from Utah and Idaho, where he has been holding these vitalized agricultural conferences.

WORST SNOW STORM

walks were untouched all day, except the main walk up to the court house, which was cleared. The others were piled mountain high almost with drifts. The alleys are impassible with drifts.

Trains Late.

Both the Wabash and the Burlington had difficulty in getting their trains through. The morning Burlington passenger was about one hour in getting out of a snow drift near Hopkins. The noon Burlington passenger was a little over one hour late. The Wabash passenger No. 12 due here at 10:45 this morning, was only ten minutes late out of Wilcox, but on account of the snow drifts and not being able to get up enough steam, spent nearly two hours about a mile and a half east of Wilcox. They arrived in Maryville about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and remained here while waiting for another engine to come up from Stanberry.

Roads Bad.

The rural route carriers were able to make only a small part of their route this morning. They reported the country roads are badly drifted and are impassable.

The Wabash received a report this morning that is was raining in Moberly, Mo.

The blizzard which demoralized railroad and wire communication in north and central Colorado abated last night after leaving a blanket of snow varing from eleven to fourteen inches in depth.

Mrs. William Riley of Clearfield, Ia., returned to her home Wednesday after visiting in Maryville for several days at the home of Mrs. Ida Persons. Her brother, Dennis Hawk, of Tingley, Ia., returned to his home Tuesday after a visit here.

GENERAL LIGGETT RETIRES

COMMANDING GENERAL RETURNS TO PRIVATE LIFE

AGE LIMIT MAR. 21

San Francisco April 15.—Automatic retirement because of the age unit is taking from the army one of the outstanding figures of the world war and one of the most brilliant military strategists and executives that West Point produced.

Major-General Hunter Liggett, commanding general of the Ninth Army, with headquarters in San Francisco, is closing up his long career as a soldier and is ready to enter upon his duties as Hunter Liggett, citizen. His retirement papers are dated Mar. 21.

During the World War Major-General Liggett, at that time lieutenant-general and commanding general of the First American Field Army and the American Army of Occupation in Germany, commanded more men than any other general in the war. General Liggett is also credited with having commanded more men at one time in the field than any other general in history.

Forty Years' Service.

Twenty years before he became one of the world's best-known military figures he was in the field against the Filipino insurrection. He was a major then, while Pershing was a major and Funston was a brigadier general serving in the Philippines.

The successful campaigns against the former subjects of Spain did more than compel recognition of the American flag and American rule. They developed two fighters—Pershing and Liggett—who were destined to lead the greatest American army ever organized.

Hunter Liggett was born at Reading, Pa., March 21, 1857. In his early teens he determined that soldiering was the life for him. He secured an appointment to West Point and graduated from that institution with high honors in 1879. He was married in 1881.

When commissioned a second lieutenant he was assigned to the Fifth Infantry. Promotion to a first lieutenant came in 1884.

Fighting In Cuba.

Advancement in rating came slow in the eighties and nineties, and it was not until June 1, 1897, that he was promoted to a captaincy. When war with Spain broke out he was commissioned a major of volunteers. He served through the operations in Cuba.

When the fighting in Cuba was concluded he was sent to the Philippines, where he distinguished himself in numerous engagements. He was honorably discharged as a major of volunteers in 1901 and was recommissioned a major in the regular army in 1902, and as such served with the Twenty-first Infantry. Promotion to a lieutenant-colonelcy came in 1909, his assignment under the new rating being to the Fifteenth Infantry.

A full colonelcy came in 1909. He was made a brigadier- general in 1913 and a major-general March 6, 1917, just before the United States declared war on Germany. At the time he won his two stars he was in command of the Western Department, with headquarters in this city.

Service In France.

Shortly after his arrival in France he was made a lieutenant-general and placed in command of the First American Field Army of General Pershing. When the armistice was signed it was Liggett who was selected to lead the American Army of Occupation into Germany.

Do you USE Money or just "spend" it?

The frenzied "spending" of the year following the war built up a false prosperity. It looked good because money circulated fast. But it circulated like it does around a gambling table—not constructively.

The real USE of money is spending it for things that help our business or make our living conditions better or investing it where it will make more money and WORK FOR US.

Money placed in a savings account is not taken out of circulation—it is used in business and it brings a return.
